

Here comes BETT

Kids have only just gone back to school and already BETT preparations are in full swing. Last week I was down in London at the BESA offices judging one of the awards. It was a great day out and I don't know what was better- the discussions with my fellow judges or the brilliant banquet at the floating Chinese restaurant afterwards.

<http://www.lotusfloating.co.uk/>